

ALLIES CAPTURE BIG AIR BASE IN ITALY

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

It was back just about a quarter of a century ago when the United States was embroiled in its first World War that a boy by the name of Thomas A. Rogers was galloping over the football fields of this and neighboring cities as a star halfback for the WHS football team. . . he was known to everyone as Tommy. . . not a fleet-footed ball carrier. . . but rather one who used his head. . . when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rogers moved to Wilmington where his father entered the practice of law, Tommy stayed on here in Washington C. H. where he was born, with the Misses Gertrude and Edith Gardner. . . After graduation from WHS, he went to Denison University and became not only one of the school's great football players but also one of its most beloved alumni. . . He remained at the school after his graduation as instructor and assistant coach and became head coach later. . . When war came to his country, Tommy entered the Navy. . . his contract as football coach was renewed by the Denison University trustees, something done for but very few who went into the service. . . and the following tribute, which appeared in the Denison that has just come to my attention, speaks for itself:

"To Lieutenant Thomas A. Rogers, friend, counselor, teacher, coach and Naval Officer this book is dedicated.

"Tommy, who gave unstintingly to all Denisonians with whom he came in contact, is now giving unstintingly as a lieutenant, Senior grade, in the United States Naval Reserve, doing his part, so that the Denison we know, will be preserved.

"For seven years, Tommy was head football coach, before entering the Navy, and during that time, developed a spirit of fair play and team work, which makes the war jobs which are necessary today, a little easier for those who have come under his influence.

"In appreciation of what he has done for Denison, and for what he is doing now in a bigger way, and in the hope that he may soon be back 'on the hill' we extend this, our gesture of thanks and hopes to Tommy Rogers."

It was my good fortune to have grown up over in "Bulltail," as Sunnyside was then (and still is sometimes) called. . . and I can say without hesitation that I have never known a finer man or boy. . . all who ever knew him feel the same. . . no wonder Denison University dedicated its annual to him. . . he has many old friends here who will read this and feel happy, I know.

Passing the old Pennsylvania freight station Monday, while en route to the Fayette Canning plant I noticed that the foundation of the freight depot is of sandstone such as is found in Fairfield County, near Lancaster. That reminded me that the Pennsylvania Railroad was built 89 years ago and the old foundation was built at that time, and was for a frame structure. Later the frame building was supplanted by the present building, and the brick laid on the sandstone foundation walls.

Most of the stone abutments of bridges on the road were quarried from the sandstone hills of Fairfield county.

$75,000,000 ESTATE FOR BIRTHDAY GIFT

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—(AP)—A fortune estimated at from 70 to 75 million dollars came into possession of Marshall Field III today, his 50th birthday. He is rated one of the world's wealthiest men.

The amount, representing the residue of the estate of his grandfather, Marshall Field I, Chicago's merchant prince, was estimated by Carl J. Weitzel, comptroller of the Marshall Field estate, on the basis of current appraisal figures.

Field, the founder and publisher of the Chicago Sun, is the sole beneficiary of his grandfather's residuary estate. He has received previous allotments, estimated at $93,000,000, under the terms of the will of the first Field, who died in 1906.

More German Cities Being Destroyed By Allied Air Armada

By ROBERT STURDEVANT

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Great Royal Air Force heavy bomber armadas struck three German cities last night, concentrating on the rubber center of Hannover in the second attack in force on that city within a week, amid indications that it is due for the same destructive punches which leveled Hamburg.

The three-ply night offensive also hit at the big German naval base of Emden, in a swift follow-up to the Flying Fortress slash yesterday when American bombers dropped a mixed load of high explosives, incendiaries and pamphlets.

Another RAF target was Brunswick.

Last night's attack was the eleventh heavy bombing delivered on Germany this month, and marked the 48th time Hannover —about 380 miles from Britain and 160 miles due west of Berlin—has been bombed since the start of the war.

The Hannover raid cost the RAF 38 bombers.

Returning crewmen reported tremendous flames eating through the city, which is a huge rail center and the site of numerous oil refineries and motor factories, in addition to Germany's largest rubber factory, the Continental Gummiewerke.

For Emden, important U-boat haven on the north coast, it was the second blasting within little more than 12 hours. The Fortresses had plowed through adverse weather to drop their loads, employing comparatively new methods devised to make potent the American daylight offensives as effective in bad weather as in good.

Germany And Japan Not Broken, Report

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Despite recent setbacks the military might of both Germany and Japan is greater today than when they set out to conquer the world.

That's the consensus voiced by United States military leaders at a conference of industrial, labor and newspaper executives called by the War Department to hear a frank report on what is happening and what may be expected.

As the conference reconvened today for an outline of the staggering Patterson, undersecretary of war, declared there was "no doubt that our recent victories, have failed to affect in any vital degree the strength of the enemy."

Lt. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, said that while Germany has abandoned expectation of victory, she still is a formidable enemy.

Just how formidable was made clear by Maj. Gen. George V. Strong, Army intelligence chief, who told yesterday's session that the German army and air force are stronger now than when Poland was attacked four years ago, and that Germany's employment in war industries has risen in the same period from 23,000,000 to 35,000,000.

Strong rejected any talk of an early German collapse, and presented a similar report on Japan—tremendous resources which mean growing strength as long as Japan controls East Asia, excellent morale, an improving air force, and a reservoir of 4,000,000 potential fighting men.

30 YEARS IN PRISON FOR ADMITTED SPIES

Former Air Raid Wardens Convinced by Evidence

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Two former Staten Island air raid wardens who pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to violate the wartime espionage act were sentenced today to 30 years imprisonment each by Judge Mortimer W. Byers in Brooklyn federal court.

Judge Byers told the two men, Ernest F. Lehmitz, 57 and Erwin H. De Spretter, 52, he thought they had "not told the truth to the government" and had "failed to cooperate with the Federal Bureau of Investigation" and that consequently he was imposing the longest prison terms prescribed by law for such offenses.

Lehmitz and De Spretter at first pleaded innocent to the espionage conspiracy charges, but after the government completed its case against them they suddenly entered pleas of guilty.

MORE SELF-GOVERNMENT LOOMS FOR PUERTO RICA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt submitted to congress today a bill which he said would give the Puerto Rican people the right to elect their governor and "an opportunity for the free exercise of the powers of local self-government."

The bill was drafted, for the guidance of Congress, by a committee under the chairmanship of Secretary of the Interior Ickes.

WHEELER DEMANDS "SLACKERS" BE DRAFTED FIRST
WASHINGTON—Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) demanded in the Senate today that pre-war fathers be deferred from the draft "until the slackers are taken from government bureaus and war industries in which they are hiding. Let these bureaucrats be called upon to bring about a better utilization of manpower before we make mothers and children sacrifice their homes."

BRAZIL READY TO SEND TROOPS OVERSEAS
RIO DE JANEIRO—Gen. Eurico Gaspar Dutra, Brazilian war minister, said today that "all details already are established between Brazil and the United States for participation of a Brazilian expeditionary force in active war."

COMMITTEE APPROVES 100 PERCENT PARITY FLOOR
WASHINGTON—The House Agriculture committee approved today a bill to put a 100 percent parity floor under basic farm commodities. The present government loan price support is 85 to 90 percent.

Gaud, Jr., of the Army General Staff, disclosed that ten percent of military lend-lease shipments for 1944 has been earmarked for such countries as France, Belgium, Norway and Greece.

KEY TO OFFENSE IN BALKANS IS SEIZED QUICKLY

Yank and British Forces Meanwhile Battle Ahead In Naples Area

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 28.—(AP)—A strong British mobile armored column has raced 25 miles through Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring's defenses and captured the great air base city of Foggia with its 12 satellite airfields.

Official reports disclosed the vanguard of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army troops entered the city at 3 P. M. yesterday, easily overcoming minor opposition.

At the same time Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's men of the Fifth Army registered gains of from two to five miles to the north in the Salerno area in the face of stubborn German resistance.

The Fifth Army captured the towns of Lioni and Castelnuovo on the eastern flank of this line, which was held by American troops.

The historic city of Melfi also was taken.

North of Salerno British troops plunged their way forward two miles.

Some idea of the intense fighting encountered by the Fifth Army was given by prisoners of the German 16th panzer division who said their division had been virtually put out of action, with its losses exceeding 50 percent.

PAY HIKE APPROVED FOR RAIL WORKERS

Union Boss, However, Says Size an Insult

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The White House disclosed today that a railroad emergency board had recommended a wage increase of at least four cents an hour for 300,000 operating employees of the nation's rail carriers.

The board reported to President Roosevelt these workers were entitled to that much under the Little Steel formula and implied it would have recommended a higher figure if it had felt the government would approve.

The report was submitted on a 2 to 1 vote, the minority member dissenting sharply because he favored a more substantial increase, amounting to 7½ percent.

AN INSULT

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Thomas C. Cashen, international president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, said today the railroad emergency board's recommendation of a wage increase of four cents hourly for operating employees "is an insult."

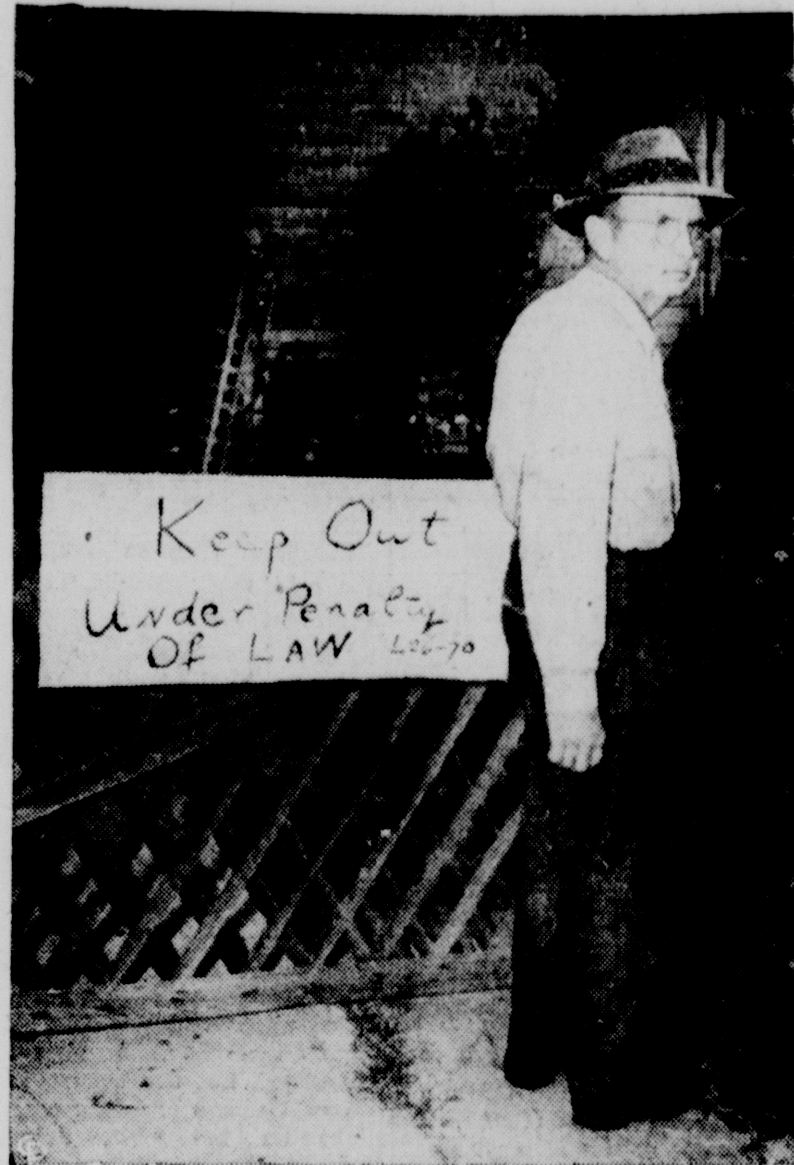

"It is my opinion the employees will not accept the recommendation," he added.

STORY OF BRIBERY CHANGED BY JUDGE

GREENVILLE, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Former Probate Judge Harry A. Miles says he reversed his testimony concerning fees in an estate settlement because "my conscience made me come in here and tell the true story."

Under cross-examination yesterday in the trial of T. A. Billingsley, a member of the state racing commission charged with bribery, Miles repeated his testimony of last week that he had agreed to allow $10,900 in attorney fees in the Village S. Marker estate and was to receive $1,500. He referred to his conscience in reply to a question of counsel. Billingsley was attorney for administrators of the estate.

Synthetic Tires Put to Test by Indiana Police

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 28.—(AP)—The State Department of Public Safety, experimenting with synthetic tires on state police automobiles since last July, has found approximately one-third of the tires unusable after 1,500 miles, Director Don F. Stiver disclosed today.

The maximum mileage given by any of the tires has been 9,000 miles, Stivers said in a statement. Of 158 tires used in the test, one had to be returned to the factory after 50 miles when a blister developed.

The chief weakness of synthetic tires, Stiver explained, was the formation of blisters, produced by friction-heat generated at only slight excesses of speed.

Three Nazi Subs Sunk By Yank Navy Flier

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Destruction of three German submarines and the damaging of a fourth by a single American plane flying from an escort carrier on Atlantic convoy duty was reported by the Navy today.

Lieut. Robert Pershing Williams, 26, Snoqualmie, Wash., scored the heavy damage on these undersea raiders. He was flying a Grumman Avenger bomber.

Three of the submarines went to the bottom and a total of about 65 German crewmen were rescued from the sea by destroyers. The fourth submarine left merely a huge oil slick on the surface and was recorded only as "possibly damaged."

The first of the series of attacks by Williams' bombing plane came in mid-afternoon when Paden sighted the wake of a large submarine. The raider was strafed by a fighter plane piloted by Lieut. (jg.) Earl H. Steiger, 24, Buffalo, N. Y.

Then Williams roared in on his bombing run, and the bombs straddled the submarine about 25 feet forward of the conning tower. The raider was mortally wounded but the German crew

IMMOVABLE FORCES MEET ON LONELY ROAD

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Sheriff's Deputy Cliff Johnson was called to a lonely, one-way country road at 6 A. M., and found two motorists sitting in their cars glaring at each other.

They'd been there 12 hours, said the deputy, each refusing to back up to a wide spot in the road and let the other by.

FATHER DRAFT AT SHOWDOWN

Tax Boosts All Along Line In Prospect as Congress Takes Up War Financing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Congress reached the showdown on the father draft issue today and U. S. military heads opposing blanket deferment of family heads chose the occasion to warn that Germany and Japan are more powerful than ever.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) carried to the floor of the Senate his legislation to postpone the draft of fathers until January 1, amid signs of its certain defeat. He said the administration was out to defeat his bill even if it meant "breaking up the American home."

Sentiment swung against the Wheeler bill after military men pleaded at hearings for completion of a war machine which will apparently require induction of almost a half million fathers to reach contemplated strength.

A sobering comment on the impact of the war came from a tax expert on Capitol Hill. Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee pictured a new dent in the public bankroll when the next revenue bill emerges in a few months. George said that if accepted congressional methods were followed in a search for an extra $10,000,000,000 or more a year, normal and surtax rates in the lowest income brackets would have to be boosted to 32 percent; another 10 percent jump would be put onto corporation taxes and excise levies on liquor and tobacco would have to be broadened to take in other commonly-used articles.

The treasury, which wants an additional $12,000,000,000 a year, may have something to say about this at the start of hearings next Monday.

Another subsidy battle shaped up, meantime, on Capitol Hill. Farm organizations announced they would seek a law to prohibit direct subsidies which they contend do not increase or even maintain production. Instead, spokesmen said, they want the government to step in as a purchaser to guarantee the farmer his cost of production when prices dip below a certain level.

One of the original proponents of subsidies, Price Administrator Prentiss Brown, was reported today as ready to resign, satisfied with the way OPA is functioning. He may be headed toward another high government position.

IGNORANCE BLAMED FOR CIO CRITICISM

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Replying to a criticism by two United Automobile Workers (CIO) officials that the Ford-operated Willow Run bomber plant's production record was "one of the outstanding failures of this war," the Ford Motor Co. in a statement today said:

"It seems impossible to brand most of the statement as anything other than verbal sabotage. The contentions of the two representatives of the local body, a definite ignorance of the war department program for Willow Run and the Ford Motor Company's effort to carry out that program."

HITLER'S HORDE KEPT ON RUN BY FIERCE ATTACKS

People of Germany and Balkans Uneasy as War Rushed Nearer Home

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Three key cities of White Russia—Gomel, Mogilev and Vitebsk—were in danger from advancing Red army forces today, while further south other Soviet columns continued their unrelenting pressure against Kiev, Kremenchug, Dnepropetrovsk and Melitopol, springboard for a possible drive into the Crimea.

The last German Caucasian base of Temryuk was smashed yesterday, a Moscow war communique said, virtually sealing the fate of whatever Axis forces were left in the northwestern Caucasus. They faced certain capture or flight across the Kerch Strait to join the German garrisons in the Crimea. A Berlin broadcast said Temryuk was evacuated Sunday after military installations were dynamited.

Most sensational of the Soviet gains was the capture of an east bank suburb of Dnepropetrovsk, in a savage hand-to-hand struggle across the river from the big steel and power city on the Dnieper Aiver bend.

Their backs to the broad Dnieper, the Nazis fought to the last. Remnants of their rearguards were hurled into the Dnieper as Red army troops overran the suburb of Nizhnedneprovsk and seized huge piles of abandoned war loot, the Russian communique said.

The Russians said they reclaimed 1,320 towns and villages—biggest one-day haul of the smashing summer offensive—in yesterday's action on the war's longest land front.

Nearly 7,000 Nazi troops were reported killed on all sectors of the front. Moscow said that German troops, reeling under the impact of the Soviet steamroller tactics, were surrendering by the hundreds.

The battle for Kiev, the great central bastion high on the west bank of the Dnieper, was developing, and a Berlin broadcast said Soviet troops had crossed the river 50 miles to the north and were battling the Germans on the west bank.

On the Gomel-Vitebsk sector, Red army spearheads captured Terekhovka, 22 miles southeast of Gomel, southern junction of the Mogilev-Orsha-Vitebsk railway, and were advancing despite stiff resistance, Russian front dispatches indicated.

A German expert explained in a broadcast that the "German retreat is in preparation for a winter campaign."

NEW DRIVE OPENED BY JUNGLE TROOPS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose New Guinea troops have won virtually complete control of 80 important miles of coastline from Calamau to Finschhafen since Sept. 12, now have opened a thrust toward Madang, 170 more short-line miles to the northwest.

This movement while Australians are battering at the last tiring Finschhafen, is an overland one developing in the Japanese defenses before tottling Markham Valley at a point 68 miles northwest of Lae.

Today's communique disclosed the capture of Sagerak, a village approximately 70 miles south and slightly east of Madang. It was the first hint of a land drive in that direction.

RUTH SEXTON IS GIVEN 20-YEAR SERVICE EMBLEM

'It's Harder Now,' Operator Says as She Highlights Experiences

Mrs. Ruth Sexton, employee of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company here for 20 years, has just been awarded a silver emblem service pin for her years of service to the company. The presentation was made by O. H. Magly, assistant district traffic supervisor from Springfield. The emblem is silver, about half the size of a dime and is centered with a silver star.

Looking back over her 20 years with the company, Mrs. Sexton recalls that the two hardest days of her experience on the long distance board here came when the First National Bank burned in 1934 and when the People's and Drovers' bank folded up in 1933.

"We were really swamped those two days," she said, as she explained that a normal day's number of outward calls is anywhere from 500 to 600. That number does not include the inward calls or the assistance calls, pay station calls and information which are also taken care of by long distance operators.

"The work is harder now than when I began because there are so many more long distance calls made now," Mrs. Sexton said. She has been on the long distance board ever since she began working on September 13, 1923.

Besides the increase in the number of long distance calls, the system itself has enlarged until there are now 3,040 phones in the city of Washington C. H. alone as well as 900 more scattered throughout the county.

Mrs. Sexton collects china dogs and now has over 200 of all sizes in her collection. Her daughter, Leona Jean, is a senior in Washington High School.

She is the first person to be awarded a 20 year service pin since September, 1941, when Edward Cullen, Miss Mary Jo Cullen, William Turner, Mrs. Viola Thompson and A. H. Crawford were given their silver pins.

FRESHMEN, FACULTY ARE INITIATED NOW

Freshmen and new faculty members of Madison Mills High School really belong now—after an impromptu initiation held at the school.

The initiation day was climaxed by a party held in the high school gymnasium. Faculty members and about 70 of the students in the high school participated in the folk dancing and ping-pong playing which was the evening's program of entertainment. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and lemonade were served during the evening.

For their initiation, freshmen were told to wear ragged clothes to school and during an assembly period, all freshmen—plus the three new faculty members, Mervin Britton, superintendent; Miss Mary Jean Gage, music teacher and H. George Robertson, science and history teacher. Some of the penalties paid by the initiates were rolling a pencil off the stage with the nose, jiggerbugging without any music and singing a song while giving a cake recipe at the end of each line.

Buy A War Bond Now

County Lags $375,193 In Third War Loan Now

Up until today, Fayette County has not purchased enough War Bonds to buy two Flying Fortresses which cost $375,000 each to build. The total purchased thus far is only $632,806.25, leaving $375,193.75 yet to be purchased before the end of the drive this week—if the $1,018,000 goal is to be reached.

The daily rate of war expenditures is in excess of $260,000—a sum which narrows down to $2 a day for every person in the United States. The war against the Axis is world wide and the fighting forces of the United States are the largest in history. The war is, above all, a war of machines as well as men—and the machines cost plenty of money.

A battleship costs $59,000,000 and aircraft carrier, $70,000,000. Heavy tanks roll off the assembly line at a cost of $145,000 each. An anti-aircraft gun costs $5,000.

Flying Fortresses, which have been flying over the Rhineland in groups of 1,000 use $375,000 worth of gasoline and $1,000,000 worth of bombs on each trip. A single block buster, weighing two tons costs $875 each and they go raining down at the rate of five a minute.

The cost of equipment for a single soldier is $154.95. Broadside from the 16 inch guns of giant battleships cost $13,500 each.

To get the money to pay for the waging of war, two principal methods may be employed—borrowing, when the lender gets his money back—or taxation. Taxes are the cheapest and to the limit that their use is practical, the most desirable means of paying for the war.

However, here is a point beyond which increased taxation cannot be carried without placing impossible burdens on many individuals. At the present time, it is vital that as large a possible sum be secured from individuals through War Bond purchases.

These purchases made now, will help to win the war—and help to avoid greater taxation, it has been said.

THE YOUNG DEAD SOLDIERS DO NOT SPEAK

Nevertheless they are heard in the still houses: who has not heard them?

They have a silence that speaks for them at night and when the clock counts.

They say, we were young. We have died. Remember us.

They say, we have done what we could but until it is finished it is not done.

They say, we have given our lives but until it is finished no one can know what our lives gave.

They say, our deaths are not ours: They are yours: they will mean what you make them.

They say, whether our lives and our deaths were for peace and a new hope or for nothing we cannot say: it is you who must say this.

They say, we leave you our deaths. Give them their meaning. Give them an end to the war and a true peace: give them a victory that ends the war and a peace afterwards. Give them their meaning.

We were young, they say. We have died. Remember us.

ALLIES CAPTURE AIR BASE IN ITALY FOR BALKAN ATTACK - - YANKS ADVANCE

(Today's German communiqué said the "pressure" of the Anglo-Americans in southern Italy had been considerably increased with the landing of fresh forces." It added: "While all attacks were beaten back in the Salerno area our troops have disengaged themselves according to plan in the area of Foggia and have retreated to prepared mountain positions. Foggia was evacuated after destruction of all installations of war importance.")

On the Eighth Army front "considerable casualties" were inflicted upon the Germans in the drive on Foggia, headquarters announced, but there were indications German resistance was slight on the swift advance against Kesselring's rearguard forces which were left at the mercy of British columns.

From a strategic standpoint Foggia is perhaps the most important city captured in the Italian campaign to date.

It is a city of about 85,000 and possesses one of the best airbases in all Italy and a dozen smaller satellite fields that will place powerful Allied air forces within closer striking distance of the Balkans as well as southern Germany and the great Ploesti oil fields of Rumania.

Foggia was the No. 1 objective of the Allied drive in southern Italy.

So swift was the Allied advance that the enemy was prevented from destroying the airfields.

vances for No. 2 size cans of red sour cherries (14 to 25), all other cherries except Maraschino, (14 to 23), grapefruit (10 to 18); No. 2 1/2 size apricots (27 to 36), figs (13 to 21) and prunes or plums (7 to 15). There is also a rise of 3 points for a quart of grape juice.

No. 2 cans of asparagus are up 4 points, but green and wax beans are down 2 points, vacuum-packed whole kernel corn is down 4 and other corn (except on the cob), down 3.

Mushrooms, the four-ounce size, were another item given an increase, going from 3 to 5 points.

Reduced to a zero rating but not completely removed from the ration list are dried peas and lentils, which may be given values later.

"It is obvious that the Allied drive in the east has made perilous the German position in the Naples area," an Allied headquarters spokesman said.

Foggia, in addition to being an air base, is a road center with at least six main highways leading into it from all directions.

With Foggia's elaborate string of air fields in Allied hands, the Germans struck at once today in an effort to shield themselves from the grave strategic consequences of the loss of that vital base.

Almost at the moment Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communiqué disclosed that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces had overrun Foggia, the Germans announced two quick steps of their own:

1. They threw landing forces at the island of Corfu off the west coast of Greece.

2. They attacked and claimed to have regained the Yugoslav harbor city of Split, previously stormed and seized by Yugoslav guerrillas.

In these operations, Hitler was moving with all urgency against a menace suddenly and vastly increased against his Balkan front, for the capture of Foggia by the British meant that the whole of northern Italy, the Danube valley and southern Germany itself now have been brought more adequately under the shadow of the Allied air arm.

It meant also that grand-scale facilities for Allied air action against the Balkans had now been obtained in an area only 150 miles across the Adriatic Sea.

The Berlin announcement of the occupation of Corfu, directly across the Ionian Sea from the heel of the Italian boot, said the Germans took over the entire island after a short fight with Italian troops who turned down an ultimatum to surrender.

The Allied drive again made some headway east of Salerno toward the Adriatic where heavier opposition was met.

The drive into the hills toward Nocera, 10 miles northwest of Salerno, made steady progress in bitter hand-to-hand fighting. Capture of this road junction will take the Allies to the edge of the plain leading to Naples, vital port which the Germans have been systematically destroying.

The capture of Melfi, 40 miles from the Adriatic, represented an advance of five miles beyond the previously reported Allied position. This gain was made by the American east wing of the Fifth Army and it placed the Allies within the road network area leading to the back door of Naples.

How long Kesselring can continue his savage defense north of Salerno in face of the Allied drives in other directions is a matter of opinion unless he decides to draw away his forces in the Naples area in a "Stalingrad" defense.

The Allied advances were made with only limited air cover because for the second day in succession bad weather grounded most aircraft. Fighter-bombers attacked Viterbo airfield 40 miles north of Rome and strafed troop and truck concentrations in the battle area.

to the attack, and dropped one bomb in close. The U-boat disappeared trailing oil. This attack was listed as involving only "possible damage."

Two days later Williams made his third attack, this one a certain kill. One bomb exploded directly beneath the German submarine. Five men were thrown clear and debris and oil spread over the sea. Two of the Germans drowned before a destroyer reached the scene. The other three are held prisoner.

A series of routine patrols followed until Williams' radio man spotted the next U-boat.

Williams dropped his bombs. The sub surfaced sharply. Black smoke trailed from its conning tower and it began to settle. Approximately 30 survivors were rescued by a destroyer that reached the scene.

By FRANK BRUTTO

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The German public and the nation's Balkan satellites kept an uneasy eye on the Dnieper River today amid general speculation as to when the Nazi retreat in Russia is going to end.

There has been no attempt upon the part of Paul Joseph Goebbels' office of propaganda to sugarcoat the seriousness of the situation on the eastern front. The Nazi propagandists, however, coined a new slogan, "Gain strength through defense," as they elaborated the theme that the shortened Russian line creates reserves to meet the growing threat in Italy.

Nevertheless, a Berlin dispatch to the Basel Nationalzeitung declared that the German public is "watching the east with burning interest."

(Berlin dispatches to Stockholm newspapers indicated that fighting may continue even in the rainy season because of technical improvements in both German and Russian equipment.)

The German propaganda ministry, meanwhile, is making every effort to steel the nation for further bad news during the coming fifth winter of the war.

For Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania, which have shown signs of repenting the day they cast their lot with the Axis, the situation was growing serious.

Bulgaria, bound to Russia by racial ties, has been virtually under Nazi domination since the death of King Boris and Nazi agricultural specialists have been sped to Sofia to exact a heavier contribution of foodstuffs.

Hungary, which has been reported toying with the idea of complete withdrawal from the war, was said to have withdrawn her troops from the Kiev front with Hitler's approval.

The Gazette de Lausanne reported from Bucharest that the Rumanian government has forbidden discussion of the German retreat, but said there was considerable worry on the part of the people over the approach of Russia to the Rumanian border. Even military circles in Bucharest have taken the gloomy view that a German defense line at the Dnieper is untenable over the winter, it was said.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Policy Followed in Italy
Irrks Soldiers But Viewed
As Essential While War On

Premier Badoglio's seeming desire to bring his Italian government in on the side of the United Nations as an ally is causing some resentment among American and British soldiers as well as on the part of officers of the AMG (Allied Military Government of occupied territories).

"It wouldn't be surprising," reports Edward Kennedy, Associated Press war correspondent in Italy, "if Premier Badoglio issued a declaration of war on Germany as a means of getting into the winning camp and salvaging something in the post-war settlement."

"The idea of accepting the Italians as 'allies' however, is repugnant to many of the troops, who thought they had defeated the Italians once and for all and now find it strange to have Italians in charge of civil administration here and issuing decrees which indirectly affect the Allied forces. Officers of the AMG who came here to administer the country have found their organization side-tracked while Italians control the civil power, and they are resentful of the situation."

Well, it's easy to understand that feeling. Maybe, too, it's a good thing this has cropped up now, because we are going to have other defeated countries to deal with before long and it's important that we adjust our minds to the common-sense way of handling these situations. Take the case of Italy:

The Allied objectives have called for unconditional surrender, wiping out of Fascism, punishment of Mussolini and his gang, disarmament, depriving Italy of her ill-got empire and returning its component parts to rightful sovereignty, military occupation of Italy and AMG administration until such time as the people can choose a legitimate government of their own. We swore to do all this with firmness, and there's no indication we've weakened.

British Premier Churchill last week gave us a significant glimpse of Allied determination to rid the world of gangsterism when he told with grim brevity how it happened that Nazi parachutists were able to rescue Mussolini. The Italian carabinieri who were guarding the ex-dictator failed to carry out their orders to shoot him if any delivery were attempted. That's to say, the Duce was to be executed on the spot if there was danger of his escaping Allied justice.

We shall get him again, just as we shall get Hitler and Tojo—dead or alive—and all their henchmen. Then punishment will be exacted, and it won't be tea and cakes.

What we have to remember about Italy, however, before we get indignant over the trend of affairs, is that while the government capitulated, this didn't end the war on the peninsula by a long shot. We still have to wrest the country from the Germans.

In these circumstances one would expect the occupied portions to continue under military rule, thereby perhaps delaying the establishment of AMG. It isn't surprising either that the Allies are encouraging the Italians to fight the Germans. That doesn't mean the Italians are being invited to become our Allies; they're being invited to help themselves. They still must take their punishment.

However, when we have dealt with Mussolini—imprisoned him, hanged him, or compelled him to listen continually to phonograph

RED CROSS HERE TO OFFER HOME NURSING COURSE

Open for Registrations Now
For Home Nursing and First Aid Courses

"We're open for registration now" Miss Mary Robinson, head of the Red Cross here, said as she announced the Washington C. H. Red Cross chapter would sponsor home nursing and first aid courses this year.

Miss Robinson explained that if enough register for either course instruction would begin. She designated from 20 to 25 registrants as "enough." She will take registrations at Red Cross headquarters.

"When we get enough people interested in the courses, instruction will begin," she continued. She explained that each course would last from 24 to 30 hours with possibly 12 instruction periods. Nurses Aide training cannot be given here, she added, because Fayette County does not have a hospital.

Red Cross bulletins point out that already in some localities, hospitals have been forced to close because of the shortage of nurses and hospitals and medical facilities will be even more over-taxed during the coming year.

"Every woman wants to know how to care for her family in case of sickness or accident. In fact, a woman's knowledge of the basic rules of nursing may someday save the life of her child or husband. In wartime this 'know how' is particularly valuable because there are fewer doctors and trained nurses available," the bulletin continued.

Miss Robinson said that the nursing instruction would be in charge of a registered nurse, although the instructress had not yet been definitely decided upon.

records of his own bombastic speeches, as a collage of mine suggests—and when we have carried out the other announced Allied aims, how much further would the average American want to go in the way of retribution? Not a great way, I'll gamble.

The Allied leaders have made it clear that there's no intention of crushing the Italian people but, on the contrary, of helping them get a fresh start. It strikes me as highly important that this be emphasized, and certainly that we don't allow ourselves to be sent off on some emotional tangent.

We've got to be tough, but we don't have to try to be tougher than we are by nature. Other Axis nations are watching Italy. No country will surrender if it believes it's going to be enslaved, as the people of Germany, for example, are being told by Hitler and Goebbels.

Anyway, all arguments notwithstanding, we'll probably be smart to let the very capable General Ike Eisenhower, have a fling at running his own job.

With a Buckeye In Congress...

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress, 7th Ohio District

The Fulbright Resolution, passed by the almost unanimous vote of the House last week, was probably a meaningless gesture, inasmuch as there is every indication that the Senate will give the measure but little consideration and will write its own version as to what American foreign policy should be in the future. There was little opposition to the Fulbright Resolution in the House, because everyone could agree with the broad and general proposition stated therein—that the people of the United States, through its Congress, is for a just and lasting peace, and for cooperating in a constitutional way with the other nations of the world in bringing about and maintaining such a peace. Of course, this is what the United States always has done and always will do—and, of course, the Congress of the United States cannot pass any resolution binding either itself or the nation to any unconstitutional commitment. The Constitution sets forth how treaties and agreements with foreign nations may be made and ratified. Therefore, any action taken by Congress now as to postwar foreign policy can only be general in nature. President Coolidge, in interpreting a sermon he had heard on the subject of "sin," explained that the preacher "was against it." The Fulbright Resolution is for "a just and lasting peace." It is easy to so resolve. The difficulty will come in obtaining such a just and lasting peace in the future. Everyone is for the objective. The real problem is how to obtain it.

As predicted, high military and naval officials, as well as civilian Administration leaders, have, in their testimony before a Senate ally bring relief to the already over-burdened taxpayers.

If the recommendations of the Secretary of the Treasury and other administration leaders are followed, the average American taxpayer will find his income taxes increased by at least fifty percent next year. One of the treasury recommendations is that the present withholding tax of twenty percent be increased to thirty percent, with a corresponding upward adjustment in all higher income tax brackets. However, there is little likelihood that these recommendations of the administration leadership will be accepted by the Congress. Instead there is a growing feeling among the legislators charged with the responsibility of drafting revenue laws that the present individual and corporation taxes are about as heavy as the traffic will bear and that what is needed at this time, more than anything else, is a simplification of the present income tax laws. Some members of Congress, including our humble servant, even have the old-fashioned idea that the elimination of unnecessary government expenditures might possibly reduce the need for increased taxes. It is at least worth thinking about.

The United States is today facing a serious paper shortage. The demands of war have created many new uses for paper. At the same time, labor, equipment and transportation shortages have been drastically reducing the amount of paper available, so that now paper supplies are only about eighty-five percent of the prewar normal. Within a few months, it is predicted, the paper supply may drop to sixty percent of normal. Already the newspapers and magazines of the country have voluntarily reduced their consumption of newsprint and paper in order than a greater amount may be made available for war uses. Farmers are being called upon to furnish, from their own wood lots, as much pulp-wood as possible during the coming months. Housewives and merchants are being requested to conserve wrapping paper and sacks. The whole American public is being asked to salvage every bit of waste paper that it may be reconverted for use in making containers and shipping boxes. Every individual citizen can help by not using more paper than is absolutely necessary and by salvaging every bit of waste paper possible.

According to Chairman Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee, the national debt will soon reach the present statutory limitation of two hundred and ten billion dollars and it will become necessary to increase the debt limit to three hundred billion dollars, which the administration hopes will suffice if the war does not last too long. The national debt at the end of World War I stood at but slightly more than twenty-six billion dollars.

FUTURE WORLD FLIGHTS
So many folks have flown around the world of late that only the passengers themselves find anything very thrilling about such trips, and they become pretty blasé after the second or third trip.
Because of the war, civilians, however willing to pay the cost, can not step in and buy a ticket for some far corner of the world as a matter of routine. But those with genuine business can always arrange to fly to any out-of-the-way corner on short notice in much safety and relative comfort.

It was not thus on April 6, 1924, when eight Army fliers set out from Seattle, Wash., in four planes specially designed and built for the venture by a young man named Donald Douglas.
There was a major, a captain, three first lieutenants, two sergeants, and one civilian with the temporary rank of second lieutenant. It was their assignment to fly something more than 25,000 miles around the world. Nobody, up to that time, ever had flown around the world.
On Sept. 24, 1924—more than five and a half months later by elapsed time, during which they had been actually in the air 363 flying hours—two of the planes, piloted respectively by Lieut. Erik H. Nelson and Capt. Lowell H. Smith, landed back at Seattle. They had covered 26,325 miles. With Nelson was Jack Harding, civilian. With Smith was Lieut. Leslie P. Arnold.

The other two planes had been forced down, one, piloted by Maj. Frederick L. Martin, in Alaska. The other, flown by Lieut. Leigh Wade, sank in the North Atlantic after flying across the Aleutians to Japan; across the East China Sea to Shanghai; thence by way of French Indo-China, Siam, Rangoon; across the Malay peninsula to Burma; across the Indian ocean to Calcutta; then to Bagdad, Constantinople, Paris, Vienna, Strasbourg, London and Iceland on the way back toward the United States. He and Sgt. Henry Ogden, who was with him, were rescued.

That flight was possible only thru intensive organization and preparation. Ground men went in advance to each projected landing spot and arranged for supplies.

On the basis of that then spectacular adventure, experts say that our astoundingly successful Air Transport Command in this war rests. Repair and weather bases, established along the route blazed by those fliers, make possible achievements in air transport which can hardly even be suggested until the war is over.

To the eight intrepid fliers this country and the world owes a lasting debt of gratitude.

INEVITABLE TAX TREND

A recent statement by Secretary Mor-

Washington at a Glance
By JACK STINNETT
Washington — There are more Congressional committees investigating government manpower with an eye to whacking the daylight out of it than I have ever seen concerned with a single subject before.
Rep. Lyndon Johnson's subcommittee of the House Naval Affairs Committee has even taken up offices in the Navy Department building, better to study the situation at first hand.
The House Military Affairs Committee has a subcommittee at work on the same thing in the War Department.
The Byrd committee, concerned with governmental expenditures, is devoting much of its time to government employment.
The Rampeck committee on civil service in the House is up to its ears in the problem.
That's just a starter, and these activities are certainly not going to be curtailed by what the congressmen heard from the home folks. Apparently the expansion of civilian government employment to now more than 3,000,000 has a lot of voters hopping mad. Investigations are a healthy thing in most cases. They keep the departments and agencies on their toes. Already, it has led to a lot of housecleaning here, and there will be more. Johnson's committee, even before it has brought in its report, has caused the Navy to do a lot of shifting of manpower.
A little prying around turns up a lot of stories about how agency heads are humping to increase the efficiency of their bureaus before they come in with 1944-45 budget requests.
A deputy administrator in OPA, a former Philadelphia banker, discovered that OPA was using 30 payroll department employees. His bank, with one-third of OPA's personnel, employed only three. He sent some of his best to Philadelphia to study the bank payroll department system. As a result OPA's payroll is going out today as efficiently as ever and so are a lot of those 30 employees.
The FBI probably has the tightest and most efficient personnel of any government agency. In spite of considerable expansion, genthau shows that seven-eighths of the national income in this country is now received by those whose annual earnings are $5,000 or less. How much more can the smaller incomes be taxed? That is the burning question. White-collar workers with fixed incomes suffer from present taxes, as they have no "war wages."

How, then, can tax revenue be secured from the "war cash" of those crowding the stores? The practical answer seems to be a sales tax. That would be simple of collection and would take a constant percentage of the surplus purchasing power which the Treasury seeks, from those best able to pay it.

Senator George says that a very much higher income tax will wreck us. The sales tax meets objectives of the Vinson plan to syphon off war earnings such as create inflation.

FUTURE MOTOR CARS
The motor car industry now lets it be known that radical changes in automobiles will be introduced slowly after the war, so that each can be tested out and sold to the public.
That is good enough policy. But there is—let's be frank—another reason why innovations will be held back. Advances in automobile style and operation are made to sell cars. When the war ends, most machines will be obsolescent, there will be a lot of war bond money, and millions of new cars can be sold without much promotion.
The real advances will come after post-war replacement has slowed down so that an inducement is needed to promote sales.

Diet and Health
Decrease in Army Diseases

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
BRIGADIER General Simmons, of the Surgeon-General's office, has just published a summary of the health of the army in World War II and has given comparative statistics of World War I. The report is of great interest to me, especially where it concerns comparative figures between 1917-1918 and 1941-1942, because of one of these I can say, "All of this I saw, and part of it I was."
Of the diseases that can be prevented by vaccination or inoculation, the army in the present war has been practically free. It is an example for civilian populations to emulate. I mention this because I get a flood of criticisms whenever I publish an article advocating smallpox, typhoid fever and diphtheria vaccination.
The smallpox record shows that in the Civil War, with two and a half million men under arms, the number of cases of smallpox was nearly 19,000—a rate of 7.97 per 1,000. Either the medical department was not strict enough, or else there were more vociferous howlers against vaccination and more suckers to believe them then.
Rate in Spanish-American War
In the Spanish-American War, with half a million men under arms, there were 825 cases—a rate of 1.65 per 1,000. In World War I, with four million men under arms, there were 853 cases—a rate of 0.26 per 1,000. In World War II, according to General Simmons, since 1940 there have been occasional cases—"giving a rate too small to record graphically."
Measles was one of our scourges in 1917-1918. There were about 100,000 cases in the whole army. In 1917 the rate was almost 240 per 1,000. There has been one fairly severe epidemic in 1941, but not of such proportions—the rate being about 50 per 1,000. I cannot account for this, save on the basis of the mysterious variations in virulence which infectious diseases go through. At any rate, thank heaven it is so, because we had a frightful death rate from measles in 1917.

Mumps is one of the scourges of armies, not because it is dangerous in itself, but because of the long period of convalescence—six weeks—the army requires. The army of World War II has also had less mumps. It may be that the greater movement of population from 1920 to 1940 accounts for the decrease. Our cases of measles and mumps, 1917-1918, were mostly in draftees from rural districts, few of whom had ever been far enough from home to contact contagious diseases. Now with automobile traffic so much increased, as well as increase in rural schooling, going to the University, etc., enough contacts are made to insure pretty general immunity.

Percentage of Meningitis
Meningitis is also a scourge, but because of its danger, not the number of cases. In 1918 there were 4.5 cases per 1,000 in the army. An outbreak during this war made a record of 217 cases per 1,000. But thanks to the sulfa drugs its sting is gone. The death rate in 1942 was only 3 per cent compared to the 1918 death rate of 34 per cent.
Respiratory diseases—influenza, pneumonia—are still troublesome. Malaria is the worst curse. Nutritional deficiency is hardly known. The United States Army is still the best-fed army in the world.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Interested—Is there such a thing as a "touch" of tuberculosis? If so, will you please define it?
Answer: Certainly. Tuberculosis is a disease which starts with a very small destruction of tissue and which if unchecked, spreads to neighboring tissue. The first area of destruction could certainly be called a "touch." It is certainly better to say that than to hide behind the comforting phrase "threatened with tuberculosis."

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE
NEITHER Ruth nor Jack spoke for some time. They just sat there in the car listening to the small night noises about them—noises that were hard to define; little mysterious whisperings, chattering, and rustlings, as though some tiny race of humans was bustling about, planning, scheming. And, as Jack listened, he thought of all the other young men who were sitting in cars with their girls—some in uniform, some soon to be in uniform. And all of them planning, or begging, or wondering—a little confused, uncertain about the future of the world as well as their own futures. Boy meets girl—all over the world. Boy says goodbye to the girl—all over the world. Maybe they'll come back, those fellows—maybe not. But none of them wanting to shirk. All of them, like himself, knowing that their futures would be even more uncertain if they didn't get out and do something about the unholy mess.
He turned to Ruth, held her close for a moment.
"Anyway, sweetheart," he said huskily, "you can't keep me from hoping. Maybe you're right about not marrying, but something tells me we ought to be as nearly normal in times like these as we can. And a fellow's wanting to marry the girl he loves is certainly normal."
"Of course it is. And I am glad you feel that way, Jack. Only—only I think waiting might be better for us both," Ruth continued.
"Feeling uncertain about you, Jack—and still experiencing what you call a hangover from a schoolgirl crush where Adam's concerned—I think we ought to wait until you come back."
"But suppose I don't come back?" said Jack.
"Don't, please!" Ruth covered her face again.
"There, there," Jack comforted. "I'll be back."
He handed her the handkerchief again. "Here, keep it." He watched her dab at her eyes, and thought her lovely even when she wept. "If you don't want me to talk any more about marrying you, I won't. It doesn't seem to get me anywhere anyhow."
Ruth smiled and pushed back her disheveled hair.
"You're sweet, Jack," she said. "I honestly wish I could fall so madly in love with you that I'd make you rush me to a minister this very night."
"Thanks," said Jack, "but if wishes were—were Cupids nobody would be single." He started the engine again. "Shall we go back now?"
"I think we'd better," Ruth said. "It's awfully late—and, as usual, we have a lot before us when morning comes." She paused a moment and then said, "I'll probably have to run the office by myself tomorrow."
"Why so?" said Jack as the car moved.
"Susan Potter's coming down to start the cafeteria work . . . and she'll probably want Adam right at her elbow until things get going."
"Seems funny to think of Susan's working in a factory—even in a cafeteria."
"I don't think it's a bit funny," said Ruth. "I think it's going to be a nuisance. Something tells me it's just a fad with Susan, and she'll tire after she has everyone upset and everything disorganized."
"But I thought organizing was what she was going to do."
"It is—only—oh, well, there's no need crossing bridges."
"How do you know Susan Potter isn't being patriotic?" said Jack.
"Maybe she wants to feel she's helping—just as you feel."
"Maybe so," said Ruth. "But what about Bill?"
"All right, what about him?"
"How's Susan going to look after him and her home, if she works at the factory during the day and rehearses in the evenings?"
"I wouldn't know. Anyway, it's her problem, not yours."
Just then a car without lights dashed out from a seldom-used road, and Jack had to give his steering wheel a quick turn to avoid being hit.
"Well, I'll be darned!" he exclaimed.
"What happened?" said Ruth, picking herself up from the floor, where she had fallen.
"That car! Didn't you see it?"
"No," said Ruth. "All I know is

The Fayette County organization, of which Mrs. Snyder is president, is entitled to seven delegates and their alternates to attend the conference, she said.

"If the women who want to go will contact me, plans for their going will be attended to," Mrs. Snyder said.

More than 1000 Ohio Republican women coming from all parts of the state will be in Columbus Thursday, October 6, for the streamlined one-day fall conference, scheduled to be held in the Neil House. Attending will be delegates from the more than 600 units and study groups comprising the state federation, it was said by Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown, of Dayton, Republican National Committee.

Blue Lions Not Scared By Wilmington's Record

Down at Gardner Park Monday evening Coach Jerry Kissell and his score and ten Blue Lion gridders began fortifying their stronghold against the invasion of a "hurricane." A "hurricane" that is expected to strike that section of the city at precisely 8:15 P. M. on Friday night in the form of Coach George Houck's Wilmington eleven fresh from a 61 to 6 triumph over Jackson.

In view of the Lions' two losses thus far and the decisive trouncing handed out by the Hurricanes to Jackson last week, the Lions might be expected to be digging a storm cellar to crawl into until Friday's game "blows over." But such is not the case. With a spirit that would not be broken, the battered Lions were digging into the turf attempting to develop that added punch and drive that is now needed in the backfield to get this year's aggregation rolling.

In fact, the boys might not even have heard of the Wilmington-Jackson score from the spirit they evidenced. It's a well known fact that Washington C. H. teams do not wilt easily at the sight of pre-game dope on opposing teams.

Air Attack Polished Up By Michigan

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Showing an over-all balance of strength so far, mighty Michigan will give its pass defense a thorough test Saturday when Otto Graham fires up an overhead attack which now appears to be Northwestern's only hope of going places in the important western conference engagement.

Unless Coach Lynn Waldorf can develop a running game around freshman Vic Schwall and Minnesota's Herman Frickley, Graham undoubtedly will be required to throw passes until he is weary. In its first two starts this season, Michigan has permitted opposing passers to complete only 15 of their 47 throws and has intercepted seven of them.

Elroy Hirsch, Michigan half-back, lends another angle to the game. "Crazy legs" will be seeking his first touchdown in Big Ten competition, for although he was one of the mid-west's leading ground gainers at Wisconsin last year, he failed to cross the goal line in five conference games. Northwestern lost three men for the Michigan game—first string quarterback Lynn McNutt, who suffered a shoulder separation and an injured ankle against Indiana; first string center Len Golan, who also injured a shoulder; and reserve freshman center, Charley Tourcek, who was called to active duty by the navy. A shoulder injury also has shelved sophomore Bob Nussbaumer, Michigan halfback who has averaged seven yards per ball-carrying attempt.

ATHLETICS BEING BROKEN UP BY CONNIE MACK FOLLOWING SEASON MARKED BY FAILURE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—(AP)—They won't be able to tell a player without a scorecard, in truth, when Connie Mack gets through breaking up that old gang of his. While the Athletics were dropping their 100th game of the season last night, baseball's patriarch announced a series of deals by which the A's acquire six new players and part with four old ones and unannounced cash. Here are the latest acquisitions: Joe Moore, 34-year-old veteran outfielder who played with the New York Giants for 10 years, from Indianapolis, in exchange for Outfielder Roberto Estellella and cash. Pitcher Luke Hamlin, 37-year-old winner of 21 games in the International League this season, from Toronto, for Pitcher Rie Antzen and cash. Pitcher Norman Brown, who won 16 and lost 11 at Louisville in the American Association, for Third Baseman Eddie Mayo and Outfielder Johnnie Welsaj. Third Baseman George Kell, who hit .396 to lead the Interstate League; Outfielder Flick, runner-up to Kell, with .375, and Outfielder Pitcher-Manager Woody Wheaton, from Lancaster, for cash.

Baseball Season Going On But Fans Don't Seem To Care

By JUDSON BAILEY (By The Associated Press) Major league baseball, fagged from a long, rough run, is wobbling toward the finish line and will just about make it before wilting completely. The season this year, extending a week later than in the past because spring training was done in the north, has reached an anti-climax. With both pennants decided the fans apparently are thinking about the World Series, the players about their draft status and the managers about teams made up of 17-year-olds for next year.

Reds Dig In At No. 2 Spot; Phils Beaten

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Phillies play a double-header today with Ray Starr and Ed Heusser opposing Schoolboy Rowe and Jack Kraus. In their current seven-game winning streak, the Reds have almost gone beyond the reach of the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers in the struggle for second-place money. Yesterday the Reds opened the Philadelphia series by defeating the Phillies 3 to 2 and increasing their lead over idle Brooklyn to three-and-a-half games.

Clyde Shoun, erstwhile relief hurler, went the distance for the Reds to mark his 14th triumph of the campaign and his first in a starting role. Bill Lee and Dale Mathewson pitched for the Phils with the former charged with the defeat. The Reds did all their scoring in the fourth. Singles by Max Marshall and Gee Walker and doubles by Frank McCormick and Steve Messer did the trick. Two Cincinnati reserve players, Dain Clay, an outfielder, and Woody Williams, an infielder, were given 4-F classifications by their draft boards yesterday.

Fish and Tadpoles Distributed Here A large shipment of fingerling fish and about 10,000 bullfrog tadpoles were received in this county Monday, from the Newtown Hatcheries, and Chalmers Burns, conservation officer directed distribution of the consignment. The fish consisted of bass, blue gills, rock bass and catfish. The fish and tadpoles were placed in North Fork of Paint Creek and Compton Creek, the two streams in Fayette County that are least affected by drought.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—AP—All grain futures led by the bread cereals, advanced sharply today as suspension of trading in wheat futures on the Winnipeg exchange brought into the pits a flurry of buying activity by outside and local interests.

Reported action of the House agricultural committee in approving a 100 per cent parity price as a floor for basic crops stimulated a new buying force just before the close that carried wheat prices to new high levels since July. 30 DAY DELAY IN INDUCTION IS AUTHORIZED

Draft Boards To Follow New Instructions Just Issued

Fayette County's draft board, as well as all other draft boards in Ohio, will follow new instructions issued by State Selective Service Director Col. C. W. Goble to grant a 30 day induction delay to workers who fail to receive occupational deferment but contend they are engaged in a critical occupation.

Under the new orders reported by Col. C. W. Goble, state Selective Service Director, the boards will refer names and present employment of such registrants to the U. S. Employment Service for investigation.

Should the USES find a registrant is essential to his present work or if he is placed by the USES in other employment, the local draft board will grant an additional delay of 10 days to permit reclassification.

If the local draft board receives no word from the USES during the allotted time, it may proceed with induction, Colonel Goble said.

"Reduced to terms of operations in our USES field offices," E. L. Keenan, state WMC director explained, "this new regulation requires that we provide factual occupational studies to Selective Service boards upon request."

"Through the process of on-the-job analyses and interviewing the registrants," he continued, "staff members especially trained in this work will arrive at an accurate estimate of skill, and submit these findings directly to Selective Service board members for their consideration."

Local Selective Service boards have also been instructed by the State Director to utilize the facilities of the United States Employment Service in obtaining new and current information concerning registrants alleged to possess skills required in the list of critical occupations.

FAYETTE SALES SHOW INCREASE

Percentage Is Above Most Neighbor Counties

Up to September 11, total sales of prepaid tax stamps in Fayette County had reached $85,574.39 compared with $75,025.65 for the same period in 1942, according to official reports.

For the week ending September 11, sales were $2,753.51 compared with $1,870.65 for the same week in 1942.

The gain over last year indicates that Fayette County is ahead of nearly all surrounding counties during the year, in percentage of gains.

SUIT ORDERED TO FORCE WATER COMPANY SALE

Circleville Seeks To Buy Ohio Water Service Co. Plant

Action of the Circleville Council, which is of particular interest here where talk of buying the Ohio Water Service Company's plant has been under way for years, was taken this week, ordering mandamus proceedings against the Ohio Water Service Co. to force purchase of the water plant at Circleville.

The action was taken by a five to one vote, and councilmen said the city of Circleville had been attempting for sometime to obtain a price on the plant, and the company refused to sell or set a price.

City officials stated that the franchise under which the utility operates includes a clause which gives the municipality the right to deal with the company for purchase of its holdings.

The mandamus action will be instituted in the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

It is expected that as a result of the court action to be instituted, a sale price will be fixed for the property and Circleville will take steps with a view of purchasing the waterworks.

In Washington C. H. the matter is still pending, with finance companies offering to underwrite the deal at a low rate of interest.

CORN PICKING TO BEGIN SOON

Big Saving in Handling Corn With Pickers

Corn picking in Fayette County will get under way this week, and will be carried forward with every available picker as the corn is ready for gathering.

In some instances picking has already started on a small scale, and the corn is being placed in well ventilated cribs as the work gets under way, and "insures proper curing of the husked corn."

Farmers point to a substantial saving in having their corn picked instead of paying an excessive price for cutting and husking.

In all probability the greatest acreage on record will be left standing in the fields this year, which means that a great deal of roughage for livestock will be lost unless the stock is turned in to the fields as soon as the corn is gathered.

Where fields are picked and then sown to wheat, the entire fodder crop will be lost.

TWO MEN ARE FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Unlawful Sale of Liquor Is Admitted

Charles Grimsley, Sabina, and Leonard Loudner, near Sabina, were fined for violating the state liquor laws.

Loudner was fined $200 and costs in the Clinton County Common Pleas Court when he pleaded guilty to keeping a place where liquor was unlawfully sold and for keeping a place where gambling devices were kept. He was also given two days in jail, and this was suspended upon good behavior.

Judge Frank M. Clevenger also ordered two slot machines found in Loudner's restaurant destroyed and the money turned into the county treasury. It was the first arrest made for slot machines since the machines were ordered out.

Grimsley was fined $200 and costs by Mayor Alan McVey of Sabina, for possessing and selling intoxicating liquors.

PEAK LABOR DEMAND ENDS

Few Calls for Corn Cutters Being Received

Apparently the peak demand for farm labor to help with the corn harvest has ended, as very few calls are being received for corn cutters and very few corn cutters are applying for jobs.

The corn has been drying out very rapidly and this means that still more of the corn than originally planned will be left on the stalk.

This week will see most of the corn that is to be cut, placed in the shock.

The more corn left standing in the fields, the less wheat acreage will be sown this fall, it is pointed out.

The monetary unit of Turkey is the piaster, with an average value of 80 cents.
